The heading shouts out the obvious options on offer to a variety of buyers!

Maybe you want to upsize from a smaller acreage for horses or other animals, or downsize from a family homestead that's too far away from a major hospital, or you're a developer who loves to hold land like this with multiple incomes from a couple of dwellings while you design a small subdivision?

Developers will also recognize the future expansion plan for this region, due to the North Brisbane Bruce Highway Western Alternative which includes a new transport corridor between Beerburum and Bald Hills.

Multiple rents from 2 (two) dwellings produce a sounds financial buffer against the normal outlays of utilities like rates and water, and that's certain to grab your attention when factoring in all expenditure for any project.
