· Strong holding property with immediate rental returns

Nambour has rapidly emerged as the stand-out investment suburb on the Sunshine Coast, consistently outperforming many surrounding areas for price growth, buyer demand, and redevelopment activity. With affordability now scarce across coastal suburbs, investors and developers are turning to Nambour for its larger land parcels, favourable zoning, and strong infrastructure pipeline. Recent years have seen significant capital growth driven by migration, hospital expansion, transport upgrades, and increasing demand for medium-density housing. Properties on well-located corner blocks—particularly those offering duplex or townhouse potential—are becoming increasingly tightly held. As the Sunshine Coast continues its transition into a major lifestyle and employment hub, Nambour sits at the centre of this growth wave, offering a rare combination of value and upside. Opportunities like 39 Park Road position buyers to benefit from both short-term demand and long-term redevelopment potential, making this a compelling acquisition in a suburb with momentum firmly on its side.
