Some properties are all about the home. Others are all about the location. This one delivers both, with the added bonus of those hard-to-find, million-dollar views. Welcome to 69 Balmoral Road, Montville. A substantial family residence occupying a magnificent position in one of the Sunshine Coast Hinterland's most desirable locations.

Priced at just $985,000, the opportunity here is hard to ignore.

This is a home with all the ingredients to be something truly special once again. The location is exceptional, the outlook is breathtaking and the potential is obvious. A little imagination and some relatively simple cosmetic improvements could make an extraordinary difference. Fresh paint, new carpets and thoughtfully selected furnishings would breathe new life into the interiors, transforming this family residence back into the showpiece home its setting deserves.

Importantly, the expensive ingredient is already here. You simply cannot renovate your way into views like these.

Whether you're searching for a family home in the hinterland, a peaceful lifestyle retreat or an opportunity to add value without undertaking a major renovation, this property deserves your attention.

Homes offering this combination of position, outlook and potential at this price point are increasingly difficult to find.

In my opinion the views are worth a million dollars. The asking price is just $985,000.

Come and see the potential for yourself. You may just discover that the home you've been waiting for needs little more than your finishing touches.
