RESORT HIDEAWAY

This designer pavilion house set on two level acres, is positioned at the end of a quiet street surrounded by other quality homes. Enter the home through an oversized timber and glass door to a vision of sparkling water and dazzling porcelain tiles, and note that the design allows for most rooms to open out to the pool and garden areas. A state-of-the-art kitchen has glass splashbacks, stone bench tops and a natural colour palette which unites with the colours used externally creating a fusion of inside meeting out.

The master suite, in its own pavilion linked to the house by a glass walkway, offers a tantalizing view of the pool and the rainforest backdrop, even from the double spa. Plus it has its own private verandah for those quieter moments. The home office is at the front of the house and has its own entry and a peaceful outlook of a stone Buddha surrounded by Asian style planting with black bamboo.

The design of this home, with functional areas nicely separated from quieter areas suits all the requirements of a busy family.
