

6 Windermere Way, Sippy Downs

APPEALING STREET FRONT ARCHITECTURE

Sippy Downs has been designated as a 'Knowledge Hub' in the Queensland Government's South East Queensland Infrastructure Plan and Program and is master planned as Australia's first university town. When it was first opened in 1996 it had just 542 students. Today it is home to over 15,000 students.

Windermere Way is perfectly positioned to take advantage of the university grounds and surrounding facilities with easy access down Albany Street onto the uni walkways. The investment protection of being located in the "uni precinct" is a valuable addition to this spacious family home.

The outdoor enthusiast is well catered for at this residence with large outdoor decking and undercover entertaining. We are confident in saying that this home will be the new 'go to' for all of your family and social gatherings as the backyard and outdoor areas are a great focal point.

The street appeal of the residence is highlighted by the timeless skillion roof lines that provide straight walls and large indoor rooms. A stylish raised portico entry adds to the road side appeal and separates this family home from the cookie cutter project home.

Internally the home has a large formal living space which could also provide a designated play area for the children. Further open plan living and dining adjoins this area and overlooks the outdoor entertaining. Large sliding doors provide easy access for all year round entertaining.
