the outdoor area. The large undercover space overlooks landscaped gardens and the current owners have built-in seat benches around a brazier to enjoy the cooler evenings. The clear glass pool fence provides unobstructed views of the in-ground swimming pool making it easy to keep an eye on the kids.

The original garage has been converted into extra living with a storage room that is large enough to securely shelter bikes, jet skis or other toys. The adjacent room has been tiled and has a sitting room and kitchenette which is currently being utilised as a bar area and is conveniently adjacent to the undercover area. This area could well be the ultimate 'man cave' or perhaps set up as a fourth bedroom.
